WGTD to air Young Sherlock Holmes radio mystery theater production

KENOSHA – One of the most popular of the famous detectives, Sherlock Holmes, takes a new twist June 21 on the latest WGTD Radio Theater production.

The 91.1 Players will feature its younger cast members in “Young Sherlock and Mycroft: The Holmes Brothers’ Lake Geneva Mystery” to begin broadcasting at 11:15 a.m.

Starring in this exciting mystery are teenage actors Bobby Pirtle (Racine) as Young Sherlock Holmes and Nathan Fosbinder as Young Mycroft Holmes. Other younger actors include eighth-grader Ike Cech (Trevor); sixth-grader Evan Zuhlke (Kenosha); seventh-grader Courtney Zapp (Kenosha).

The original script, written by Michael Ullstrup (Salem) and theater troupe creator Steve Brown (Salem) will be performed in Room 120 of the Center for Bioscience and Information Technology on the Kenosha Campus of Gateway Technical College, 3520 30th Avenue. It will also air live on 91.1 FM.

This production is directed by Don Jensen (Kenosha).

Other 91.1 Players appearing in this Holmes’ mystery are: Terry Lawler (Kenosha), Jensen, Byron Heusdens (Racine), Thom Powers (Kenosha) and Cameron Spencer (Kenosha).

Food and beverages will be available at Café 91.1, a full-service coffeehouse located in the atrium of the Bioscience building. WGTD, based out of Gateway Technical College, can be heard in Kenosha/Racine at 91.1, in Elkhorn at 101.7 and in Lake Geneva at 103.3.
