Funny money man brings his 'fun-ancial'
lessons seminar to Gateway

Financial educator and comedian James Cunningham will weave comedy and pragmatic money lessons in his award-winning "fun-ancial" seminar 6 p.m. April 9 at Gateway's Technical College's Center for Advanced Technology and Innovation, 2230 Renaissance Blvd., Sturtevant.

Cunningham's focus is to entertain and educate about the pathway to solid finances including reconciling debit card statements, credit card fundamentals and how to spend less than you earn. He lays out his plan for financial stability in plain and easy-to-understand means aimed at helping people find their way to financial freedom.

The seminar is free and open to the public. For more information, please contact Evette Rowley, (262) 564-2546.

Gateway Technical College collaborates with communities in Kenosha, Racine and Walworth counties to ensure economic growth and viability by providing education, training, leadership and technological resources to meet the challenging needs of students, employers and communities.
