

2024 International Field Study

The Netherlands

Eligibility and Application

Information

PLEASE READ ALL INFORMATION CAREFULLY

Tentative Travel Dates: May 20-May 29, 2024 (Dates are subject to change)

Description

Travel to the Netherlands to learn about the country's role in the global horticulture market and sustainability efforts. Participating students will visit multiple areas of horticulture, marketing, tourism, and sustainability. Students will visit the Hortus Botanicus, where they have the opportunity to be involved in a seasonal installation in the garden. Students will experience the innovative Great Bubble Barrier which captures canal waste and learn how this system prevents pollution within water systems, both domestically and globally. At the Aeres University of Applied Science campus at Almeer, GTC students will receive a lecture and tour of the planned sustainable city and work on the Green Lung Building's green walls. Open to students in the fields of Horticulture, Arboriculture, and Greenhouse Operations.
