

Earn an Intro to Industry 4.0 Career Pathway Certificate

High School Students:

Enroll in the Gateway Technical College SMART Manufacturing Academy

Pursue your big dreams in a rapidly-expanding industry before graduating high school

Are you a futuristic thinker interested in new technology? Want to work with robots? If this sounds like your ideal career path, your next steps are joining Gateway's SMART Manufacturing Academy. This program allows high school students to take four manufacturing courses worth eight credits at Gateway for free while still in high school. You'll study robotics, mechatronics, the Internet of Things and more.

By the time you graduate high school, you'll have earned your Intro to Industry 4.0 Career Pathway Certificate for free, saving over $2,300 by earning college credit in high school. You'll be ready to begin a career as an advanced manufacturing technician, and/or apply your credits toward Gateway's Advanced Manufacturing Technology associate degree program and continue your education. These credits are a valuable investment for your future. Don't miss out!
