Gateway to host migratory birds seminar

Well-known area birding expert and Hoy Audubon Society member Rick Fare will deliver a seminar focused on migratory birds, 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sept. 17 at Gateway Technical College's Center for Sustainable Living on the college's Kenosha Campus, 3520-30th Ave.

Fare will discuss migratory birds that can be seen this fall, including which species to look for, how to best support them and how to best find them.

The presentation is free, but those attending are asked to RSVP to center program manager Kallie Johnson at johnsonka@gtc.edu or (262) 564-2196.

Gateway Technical College's mission is to deliver industry-focused education that is flexible, accessible and affordable for our diverse community. The college collaborates with communities in Kenosha, Racine and Walworth counties to ensure economic growth and viability by providing education, training, leadership and technological resources to meet the changing needs of students, employers and communities.
